What is the Resiliency Project?

The Resiliency Project proposes that the key to success with children and their families is through a collaborative approach forming a caring and responsive Team that is dedicated to serving the Rome City School District and Camden Central School District; creating and strengthening Connections in the Home, School and Community.

This Team is intended to be an extension to your family, your child's school and other supports that may already be in place to ensure that everyone can be successful. The team can meet with you at your home, in the school or the community; wherever you are most comfortable to provide support!

We are a TEAM that is here for YOU!

This Team is a shared effort by core organizations that power the Resiliency Project: Oneida County Department of Family & Community Services, CNYHHN, Connect ED NY, Rome Alliance for Education and Safe Schools Mohawk Valley. Each organization bring their strengths in service delivery that the other does not but together, they will be able to achieve collective impact with supporting your child and family.

How can we help?

Does your family need support in your HOME ensuring that your basic needs are met (i.e. food, clothes and additional tangible resources)?

Our Team can help!

Does your child need additional support in SCHOOL? Are they struggling getting to school, attending school, making friends in school and/or in need of additional school supports (i.e. one on one check in's, mentoring, conflict resolution, life skills, parental education on school supports etc.)?

Our Team can help!

Does your child and/or family need additional support by being connected with COMMUNITY resources (i.e. housing, emergency/crisis supports, mental health, physical health etc.)

Our Team can help!

"We are here to build resilience in our children, families and the greater community. Together we are better"
